AN OFFICER KILLED

By a Desperate Burglar In a Louisville Street Duel.

Louisville, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Patrolman Jas. J. Heffernan was fatally wounded yesterday by a burglar named Clark, while he and Patrolman Whitman were engaged in a pistol duel with Clark and another burglar. Clark shot from the ground after being knocked down just in time to keep him from shooting Whitman. The burglars escaped in the excitement that followed the shooting of Heffernan. The second man was wounded in the arm by Whitman.

SENT TO NASHVILLE

To Escape Danger From a Mob Violence.

Clarksville, Tenn., Aug. 13.—Tilmon Brake, the rejected lover who beat Mrs. Florence Floyd's brains out with a smothering iron, is again in danger. At Charlotte 15 miles from Marion, the scene of his crime where he has been in jail, excitement continues intense, and mob law is openly spoken of by the woman's friends. To prevent a lynching Brake was committed to Nashville for safety.

Mrs. Floyd's watch was found in a hollow tree, where Brake had hidden it while he wore her ring, but this was also recovered.

Mrs. J. M. Adams and children went to Madisonville this morning to visit relatives.

PEACE PROCLAIMED

The Protocol Was Signed at 4:23 p. m. on Friday.

The War Was Ended Officially By a Peace Proclamation From the President.

Washington, August 12.—(Special.)—The President this afternoon issued the following proclamation:

By the President of the United States of America—A Proclamation:

Whereas, By a protocol concluded and signed August 12, 1898, by William R. Day, Secretary of State of the United States, and his Excellency, Jules Cambon, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the Republic of France at Washington, respectively representing for this purpose the Government of the United States and the Government of Spain, the United States and Spain have formally agreed upon the terms upon which negotiations for the establishment of peace between the countries shall be undertaken; and,

Whereas, It is in said protocol agreed that upon its conclusion and signature hostilities between the two countries shall be suspended, and that notice to that effect shall be given as soon as possible by each Government to the commanders of its military and naval forces:

Now, therefore, I, William McKinley, President of the United States, do, in accordance with the stipulations of the protocol, declare and proclaim on the part of the United States, a suspension of hostilities, and do command that orders be immediately given through the proper channels to the commanders of the military and naval forces of the United States to abstain from all acts inconsistent with this proclamation.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done in the City of Washington, this 12th day of August, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-third.

WILLIAM McKINLEY.

By the President, WILLIAM R. DAY, Secretary of State.

A copy of the proclamation has been cabled to our army and navy commanders. Spain will cable her commanders like instructions.

to bring his squadron home and Admiral Dewey has been instructed to cease hostilities.

Taffy for France---She Did Us a Good Turn.

Washington, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—With simplicity in keeping with republican institutions the war which has raged between Spain and the United States for a period of three months and twenty-two days, was quietly terminated at twenty-three minutes past four o'clock this afternoon, when Secretary Day, for the United States, and M. Cambon, for Spain, in the presence of President McKinley, signed a protocol that will form the basis of a definite treaty of peace. It is but simple justice to our sister republic of France to record the fact that to her good offices this speedy termination of the war that might have run on indefinitely was brought about and the president himself deemed that action on the part of her French Government as worthy of his special praise.

Garcia Grants a Furlough.
